When you open or update an account with Harbour Investments, Inc., we require your name, address, date of birth and other personal and financial information that will permit us to identify you. We may ask to see your driver's license, passport, or other identifying documents for verification. 1. The undersigned, if an individual, represents that he or she is of legal age.
2. The undersigned understands and agrees to promptly verify the accuracy of confirmations on all transactions. These confirmations will come directly from the product sponsor or clearing firm where your assets are being held.
3. If this is a joint account, unless we notify you otherwise and provide such documentation as you require, the account(s) shall be held by us jointly with rights of survivorship (payable to either or the survivor of us). Each joint tenant irrevocably appoints the other as attorney-in-fact to take all action on his or her behalf and to represent him or her in all respects in connection with the agreement. You shall be fully protected in acting, but shall not be required to act upon the instructions of either of us. Each of us shall be liable, jointly and individually, for any amounts due to you pursuant to this Agreement, whether incurred by either or both of us.
4. Whenever the undersigned does not, on or before the settlement date, pay in full for any security purchase for the account of the undersigned, or deliver any security sold for such account, you are authorized (subject to the provisions of any applicable statute, rule or regulation), until payment or delivery is made in full, to sell any or all securities which you may hold for the undersigned (either individually or jointly with others), or to buy in any or all securities required to make delivery for the account of the undersigned, or to cancel any or all outstanding orders or commitments for the account of the undersigned. I understand that I will be solely responsible for any expense, loss, commission, and/or fees.
5. You are authorized, in your discretion, should the undersigned die or should you for any reason whatever deem it necessary for your protection, without notice, to cancel any outstanding orders in order to close out the accounts of the undersigned, in whole or in part, or to close out any commitment made on behalf of the undersigned.
6. Any sale, purchase or cancellation authorized hereby may be made according to your judgment and at your discretion on the exchange or other market where such business is then usually transacted, or at public auction, or at private sale without advertising the same and without any notice, prior tender, demand or call, and you may purchase the whole or part of such securities free from any right of redemption, and the undersigned shall remain liable for any deficiency. It is further understood that any notice, prior tender, demand or call from you shall not be considered a waiver of any provision of this agreement. The "undersigned" shall include any person executing this agreement on the front thereof. "You" shall include the bank, issuer, broker or other financial institution, which opened the account of the undersigned.
7. This agreement and its provisions shall be continuous, and shall inure to the benefit of your present organization, and any successor organization or assigns, and shall be binding upon the undersigned and/or the estate, executors, administrators and assigns of the undersigned.
8. You shall not be liable for loss or delay caused directly or indirectly by war, natural disasters, government restrictions, exchange or market rulings or other conditions beyond your control.
9. The undersigned understands and agrees that for our mutual protection you may electronically record any of our telephone conversations.
10. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this document, no provision of this agreement shall in any way be modified, altered, waived or amended except by a writing signed by Harbour and you.
11. The Client acknowledges and understands that Harbour's Registered Representatives and Investment Advisor Representatives are authorized by Harbour to deal only in Harbour-authorized products and services through Harbour. Confirmation of the purchase or sale of such products will appear solely on Harbour-authorized reports, confirmations, and statements. Confirmations shall be issued to the client directly from a Harbour-approved product sponsor or by Harbour and no other person or entity. No financial professional is authorized by Harbour to sell, buy or deal in any securities for a customer outside the regular course of Harbour's business. Client acknowledges that Client shall contact the Harbour Home Office directly for information regarding the firm's products if any question arises whether a product is being offered in the ordinary course of Harbour's business or is otherwise approved by the firm.
12. Additional Compensation for Expense Reimbursement - Harbour financial professionals may receive expense reimbursement from entities which include but are not limited to product sponsors. Typically, this may include reimbursement for the costs of seminars, client get-togethers, meals, travel, lodging and other expense reimbursement. These reimbursements do not impact client funds or performance since they are not paid directly or indirectly from client assets. Nonetheless, the receipt of expense reimbursement creates a conflict of interest for financial professionals receiving it, since it may cause financial professionals to favor recommendations of entities and products of reimbursing entities over those entities not providing such reimbursement. Financial professionals will advise clients as part of any recommendation whether they receive such expense reimbursement. Clients are free upon disclosure to select products and services from entities not providing financial professionals expense reimbursement.
13. Trusted Contact Person – Harbour and its financial professionals are authorized to contact the trusted contact person and disclose information about the customer's account to address possible financial exploitation, to confirm the specifics of the customer's current contact information, health status, or the identity of any legal guardian, executor, trustee or holder of a power of attorney, or as otherwise permitted by Rule 2165.

CUSTOMER AGREEMENT

14. This agreement contains a predispute arbitration clause. By signing an arbitration agreement, the parties agree as follows:

- (1) All parties are, with limited exceptions as outlined below, giving up the right to sue each other in court, including the right to a trial by jury, and except as otherwise provided by the rules of the arbitration forum in which a claim is filed.
- (2) Arbitration awards are generally final and binding; a party's ability to have a court reverse or modify an arbitration award is very limited.
- (3) The ability of the parties to obtain documents, witness statements and other discovery is generally more limited in arbitration than in court proceedings.
- (4) The arbitrators do not have to explain the reason(s) for their award unless, in an eligible case, a joint request for an explained decision has been submitted by all parties to the panel at least 20 days prior to the first scheduled hearing date.
- (5) The panel of arbitrators may include a minority of arbitrators who were or are affiliated with the securities industry.
- (6) The rules of some arbitration forums may impose time limits for bringing a claim in arbitration. In some cases, a claim that is ineligible for arbitration may be brought in court.
- (7) The rules of the arbitration forum in which the claim is filed, and any amendments thereto, shall be incorporated into this agreement.

UNLESS VOID PURSUANT TO THE FEDERAL SECURITIES LAWS, OR OTHER REGULATION, INCLUDING REGULATIONS PROMULGATED BY THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION AND/OR UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, ANY DISPUTE, CLAIM OR CONTROVERSY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS ACCOUNT INCLUDING ANY TRANSACTION, OR THE CONSTRUCTION, PERFORMANCE OR BREACH OF ANY TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OTHER AGREEMENT BETWEEN US ENTERED INTO PRIOR, AND/OR SUBSEQUENT TO THE DATE HEREOF, SHALL BE SETTLED BY ARBITRATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE FINANCIAL INDUSTRY REGULATORY AUTHORITY CODE OF ARBITRATION PROCEDURE.

Except as to issues regarding breach of fiduciary duty, or a claim based on breach of a best interest contract exemption (“BICE”) provision, no person shall bring a putative or certified class action to arbitration, nor seek to enforce any pre-dispute arbitration agreement against any person who has initiated in court a putative class action; or who is a member of a putative class who has not opted out of the class with respect to any claims encompassed by the putative class action until: (i) the class certification is denied; or (ii) the class is decertified; or (iii) the customer is excluded from the class by the court. Such forbearance to enforce an agreement to arbitrate shall not constitute a waiver of any rights under this agreement except to the extent stated herein.

15. Reward Programs - Harbour sponsors certain reward/incentive programs to its financial professionals based on the financial professional's total revenue and production each year. Producing financial professionals receive recognition in an award presentation and receive a special dinner and award at Harbour's annual conference. They receive free hotel rooms at the Harbour conference, a special gift (worth approximately $100) and monetary credit toward an annual trip Harbour offers its financial professionals. Receipt of these benefits is a conflict of interest since it incentivizes financial professionals to generate revenue and, under some circumstances, impacts a recommendation to a client made by a financial professional. Clients are advised of this conflict and are free to deal with financial professionals who do not participate in these programs.

16. Electronic Signature - The parties agree that the electronic signature of either party to this Agreement is valid, authentic and may substitute for an original signature. Each electronic signature is effective to bind its maker to this Agreement. Furthermore, the parties agree that an electronically signed document (including this Agreement) is for all purposes, including but not limited to SEC Rule 17a-3, deemed to be written, to have been signed and to constitute a record established and maintained in the ordinary course of business as an original record when printed from electronic files. Paper copies, if introduced as evidence in any judicial, arbitral, mediation or administrative proceeding will be admissible to the same extent and under the same conditions as other original business records created with a “wet signature”. “Electronic signature” means either symbols or other data in a digital form attached to an electronically transmitted document verifying the party's intent to sign the document, as well as original wet signatures transmitted by electronic means.

17. The client(s) agrees to receive electronic delivery of notices, disclosures or other correspondence from Harbour Investments, Inc.

18. The client hereby makes the following representations about informed consent of the receipt of certain information from Harbour: I (we) agree to receive, and have received delivery of Harbour's Best Interest Disclosure and Harbour's Mutual Fund Breakpoint Disclosures, by visiting <https://harbourinv.com/clients/regulation-bi/> and <https://harbourinv.com/clients/>, respectively.

19. The client hereby makes the following representations about informed consent of the receipt of certain information from Harbour: I (we) acknowledge receipt of Harbour's Client Relationship Summary (Form CRS) and understand its contents.

Client Relationship Summary (Form CRS/Form ADV Part 3)

Item 1 – Introduction

Harbour Investments, Inc. is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a Registered Investment Adviser and Broker-Dealer. Fees for investment advisory services and brokerage accounts differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. This client relationship summary is intended to describe different types of services that we offer, outline fees and costs you will pay for those services and highlight conflicts of interest that a financial professional may have. Also included in this summary is our standard of conduct, our disciplinary history and sample questions for you to ask your financial professional. You can find additional details about how we work by visiting our website at <https://harbourinv.com/clients/how-we-work/>.

Free and simple to use tools are also available to assist you in researching firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS. This website provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 – Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Harbour Investments, Inc. offers investment advisory & brokerage services to retail investors through a financial professional that you work with directly. Harbour does not take custody or possession of your assets. Advisory and Brokerage services differ as outlined below and your financial professional may be able to offer to work with you in an advisory or brokerage capacity or in some cases both.

Advisory Services – Advisory services that are offered include financial planning, wrap fee, non-wrap fee asset management and third-party portfolio management services. Additional services offered to retail investors under an advisory relationship may include asset allocation, estate planning, cash flow analysis, insurance review, college/education funding analysis, employer sponsored plan/401K review, assistance in coordination with a tax professional and other services not listed here based on your needs. Services provided by a financial professional begin with helping you identify your investment and financial objectives. You work together to develop strategies based on your personal situation and desires. The strategy is carried out through the buying, selling, and holding of securities within your account. Your account is monitored on a continuous basis and may be traded on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis which is determined by you.

Under a discretionary relationship you are granting your advisor the authority to execute previously discussed strategies by purchasing and selling securities in your account. Your advisor will determine the securities and when to purchase or sell those securities. The discretionary authority will remain in effect until terminated by you or your financial advisor. If you choose non-discretionary authority, your advisor will recommend buy and sell transactions, but you will make the ultimate decision regarding when to purchase or sell securities in your account.

Continuous monitoring of your account may not be possible in a financial planning relationship or instances where your account is only held for a limited duration of time. In certain instances, an account minimum of $5,000 or more may apply. If your account is less than $5,000 the services that can be offered may be limited. Our financial professionals are required to pass a qualification exam to provide investment advisory services. You can view the qualification exams that your financial professional has passed by searching their name on the SEC website at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/>.

Brokerage Services – We offer brokerage services including the purchase and sale of investments such as mutual funds, stocks, bonds, variable annuities, and exchange traded funds to retail clients. All transactions are on a non-discretionary basis. You may select investments, or we may recommend investments for your account, but the ultimate investment decision as to your investment strategy and the purchase or sale of investments will be yours. We can offer you additional services to assist you in developing and executing your investment strategy and monitoring the performance of your account. We do not monitor your account unless we agree in writing. We offer a large selection of investments, but do not offer proprietary products and may limit certain speculative investments. We do not have investment amount minimums, but investment companies or financial professionals may have their own. Our financial professionals are required to pass a qualification exam to sell different brokerage products. You can view the qualification exams that your financial professional has passed by searching their name on FINRA’s Broker Check website at <https://brokercheck.finra.org/>.

Additional Information – Additional information regarding our services can be found on our website at <https://harbourinv.com/clients/regulation-bi/> and in our investment advisory brochure or wrap fee brochure at <https://harbourinv.com/clients/disclosures/>.

Conversation Starter – Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Should I choose a brokerage service? Should I choose both types of services? Why or why not?
How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

Principal Advisory Fees – You will pay fees for an advisor to manage the assets in your account and provide other account related services. These fees are most often calculated as a percentage of the value of assets in your account(s) but may also be a flat rate fee. Fees paid to the advisor for managing your assets should not exceed 1.5% of your total assets under management annually. If your account is set up with a wrap arrangement, the fee that you pay to your advisor also covers trade costs from the custodian. If your account is non-wrap you will pay trading fees from your account to the custodian when applicable. Advisor fees may be billed on a monthly, quarterly, or annual basis. With wrap-accounts the advisor usually charges a higher fee to help cover costs associated with trading within the account. When fees are based on overall assets under management, the advisor’s fee will be higher when there are more assets in the account. For this reason, an advisor is incentivized to recommend you increase the assets in your account. Since fees are based on assets under management and not performance, an advisor may have incentive to focus more on gathering new assets rather than managing existing assets. You may also be charged financial planning fees based on services provided that are unrelated to the management of assets in your account. Commonly these fees are for services involved in creating a detailed financial plan, analysis, or other service type work. These fees may be charged at an hourly rate or flat rate per project. These fees can be paid by you at the time you enter a contract for services, at the completion of services or anytime in between. In either fee arrangement mentioned above, you and your advisor will determine an appropriate fee rate and payment schedule upon entering a financial advisory relationship.

Principal Brokerage Fees – In your brokerage/investment account you pay certain fees (commissions, sales charges, and ticket charges) in connection with the buying and selling of each investment product. These transaction fee rates may be set by the product sponsor or by your financial professional. Ticket charges vary as each registered representative sets their own schedule. Generally, ticket charges range from about $50 to 2% of the transaction amount. Commissions and sales charges vary depending on the product and some products such as variable annuities have commissions built into the purchase amount. Mutual funds sales charges typically range from 1%-5.75% with possibilities for a sales charge reduction based on the amount of assets in your account. The product prospectus for mutual funds and variable annuities contains all information regarding the product. Harbour and your financial professional receives compensation from the assessment of these fees. This is a conflict of interest which incentivizes Harbour or your financial professional to recommend products and services that carry higher fees and to trade more frequently, since this enhances the compensation Harbour receives.

Other Fees and Costs – Some products have ongoing fees that are built into the product and are paid indirectly by you including marketing and distribution fees. These fees are based on the value of the account and you should consult the product prospectus for full explanation of these fees. You may also pay custodian fees, account maintenance fees, transaction fees, deferred sales charges, exchange fees, SEC fees or other fees directly from your account that are separate from fees paid to Harbour and your financial professional. These fees vary by custodian and will fluctuate based on account size, trading activity and holdings.

Additional Information - You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. Additional information regarding fees and costs can be found on our website at <https://harbourinv.com/clients/regulation-bi/>.

Conversation Starter – Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations as my investment adviser or when acting as my broker dealer? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Standard of Conduct – When we provide you with a recommendation as your investment adviser or as your broker-dealer, we must act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the recommendations and investment advice, we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Harbour receives additional compensation based on a fixed amount, flat fee, a formula based on assets under management, or expense reimbursements from certain product sponsors who are considered participating sponsors. This creates a conflict of interest for Harbour and our financial professionals since it incentivizes them to focus on these sponsors when recommending products to you instead of similar products from non-sponsors that have more limited access. A list of participating sponsors is updated periodically and can be requested from Harbour at any time.

Conversation Starter - How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional Information – Detailed information regarding Regulation Best Interest and conflicts of interest can be found on our website <https://harbourinv.com/clients/regulation-bi/> and <https://harbourinv.com/clients/disclosures/> under compensation from product sponsors and conflicts of interest.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Generally financial professionals make money based on percentage of assets being serviced; the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs; revenue earned from financial advisory services or recommendations; the product sold or product sales commissions. Financial professionals may also be compensated through non-cash transactions including complementary travel and gifts. Since the adviser receives fees because of your participation in an investment advisory relationship, the adviser has incentive to recommend an advisory relationship over other services. Commission rates vary from product to product which is a conflict of interest that incentivizes our financial professionals to recommend certain products over others.

Item 4 – Disciplinary History

Do your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes. You can find disciplinary history by visiting <https://brokercheck.finra.org/> or <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/> and searching under the Firm tab for Harbour Investments, Inc or the individual tab for your financial professional. You may also visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starter - As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Item 5 – Additional Information

You can find additional information regarding our investment advisory or brokerage services by visiting <https://harbourinv.com/clients/>.
